REASONS TO STUDY AT UMT

Seasons in the Sun

You don't have to wait for a semester break to go to the beach. Our campus is within walking distance of a sandy beach that borders the blue waters of the South China Sea. For students in the marine sciences, snorkelling and diving are part and parcel of the university experience. However, these and other beach related activities are, of course, not limited to students in the marine sciences. All UMT students are welcome to take advantage of the university's strategic location and the opportunities it provide for academic enrichment and recreational activities.

Sea Survival Programme

A unique orientation experience for all new students! Your rites of passage as a UMT student includes a stint at our research centre in Bidong Island, which is an hour's boat ride from the nearest jetty to the university. You'll have a blast at this programme and come away equipped with basic jungle tracking and sea survival skills. More importantly, you'll have a better appreciation for nature, especially marine and island ecosystems, and be inspired to play a role in their conservation.

Holistic Learning Experience

Our programmes are developed to ensure a synergistic blend of theory and practice. We emphasise knowledge acquisition and its practical application. Furthermore, our relatively small size helps foster a strong connection between lecturers and students leading towards a more comfortable teaching and learning environment. You will emerge from university armed not only with academic knowledge, but also be well prepared to meet the challenges of the working world.

Pursuing Excellence in Research and Innovation

Despite being a relatively young university, our researchers have a good track record not just in participating in science, technology and innovation exhibitions both locally and abroad, but also in bringing back medals for their efforts. With the establishment of several research institutes, we have declared our commitment to pursuing research excellence.

Leader in Marine Science and Aquatic Resources Research

We've carved a name for ourselves as the leading local university in the field of marine science and aquatic resources. Our strategic location, expertise in the Sunda Shelf, and various research institutes including the Institute of Oceanography and Environment, Institute of Marine Biotechnology, and Institute of Tropical Aquaculture have increased our appeal as a hub for the advancement of knowledge in marine science and maritime studies.

WELCOME to our home

MALAYSIA

Malaysia's location near the equator makes it an ideal tropical holiday destination. In Malaysia, the weather is mostly sunny and often very hot and humid, particularly in major cities. While the temperature range is usually between 25 and 35 degrees, the country's coastal and highland areas tend to enjoy cooler weather. The country experiences two monsoon seasons: the Southwest Monsoon runs from late May to September and the Northeast Monsoon from November to March. During these periods precipitation brings some relief from the heat, with heavier rainfall usually during the latter.

SITUATED IN SOUTHEAST ASIA, MALAYSIA IS CHARACTERISED BY ITS MULTI-RACIAL COMPOSITION, BREATHTAKING NATURAL ENVIRONMENT, AND UNIQUE MIX OF CULTURAL HERITAGE. PENINSULAR MALAYSIA, WHICH IS SURROUNDED BY THAILAND, SINGAPORE, AND THE ISLAND OF SUMATRA, IS SEPARATED FROM EAST MALAYSIA ON THE ISLAND OF BORNEO BY THE SOUTH CHINA SEA.

Malaysia's capital city is Kuala Lumpur where you'll find many contemporary attractions such as shopping malls, entertainment centres, museums, and art galleries. It is also the epicentre for high profile events such as international concerts, large scale theatre shows, and colourful festivals. Beyond Kuala Lumpur, there is a wide variety of attractions and events throughout the country ranging from the quaint and traditional to the modern and mainstream.

Terengganu is the land of island getaways, quaint fishing communities, and traditional handicrafts. Its capital city, Kuala Terengganu, is a thriving mini metropolis that has managed to retain the laid back feel and traditional charm of a small town, while providing the amenities and attractions expected in a large city. Those who enjoy the outdoors will also find many opportunities to enjoy nature based activities including snorkelling, diving, jungle trekking, rafting, and boating as Terengganu is home to many of the country's most popular island holiday destinations. Here is also where you'll find Lake Kenyir, the biggest man-made lake in Southeast Asia, which is situated in the National Park, one of the world's oldest rainforest.
